

AmeriCorps Culinary-focused Food Educator

Common Threads connects kids to healthy food in the garden, in the kitchen, and at the table. We want kids to grow up making food choices that are good for their bodies, their communities, and the environment. Founded in 2007 and based in Bellingham, Washington, Common Threads is a grassroots, 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that nourishes curiosity, joy, bravery and community through seed-to-table education. Historically, most of our programs have taken place on public school grounds, during the school day. Common Threads also runs after-school gardening and cooking programs at schools and affordable housing complexes, and spring/summer camps at an urban farm site.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, programming continues to adapt to the changing needs of our Community. If you're curious about what we have done differently during this pandemic, check out our past two annual reports. At times, some service may need to be conducted virtually, and you can expect a hybrid service environment.

At Common Threads, we hold ourselves accountable (individually and as an organization) to a life-long learning journey to better understand the roles that each of us can most appropriately play in dismantling systemic and structural oppression and building a more just and equitable world.

This position description is for the August 2022 to June 2023 Culinary-focused AmeriCorps Food Educator. See also our School-based and Community-based Food Educator positions on our website. Part-time members are considered on a case-by-case basis. Please let us know in the application process.

Skills and Qualifications:

Minimum Requirements:

- A U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or lawful permanent resident alien of the U.S.
- At least 17 years of age by August 22, 2022
- Have obtained a high school diploma or its equivalent (or agrees to obtain a high school diploma or its equivalent before using an Education Award)
- Satisfy the National Service Criminal History Check eligibility criteria
- Fully vaccinated against COVID-19 or obtain a religious or medical exemption.

Successful candidates for the AmeriCorps Food Educator positions will:

- Demonstrate passion for and understanding of Common Threads' mission and programs
- Be willing and able to serve in-person and remotely in Bellingham and Whatcom County
- Be willing and able to travel to multiple service sites in Bellingham and Whatcom County (via personal vehicle, Common Threads vehicle, bike, etc.)
- Be willing to serve long hours outside in all weather
- Demonstrate commitment, creativity, adaptability, attention to detail, and the ability to serve both independently and as part of a team
- Able to be a proactive self-starter on projects
- Have basic computer skills

Common Threads is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, veteran status, or marital status in employment or the provision of services.

The ideal candidates will also:

- Have experience teaching or working with youth, , especially high school students
- Have experience with cooking, basic food preparation and service, and/or kitchen management
- Be familiar with Google Suite, Zoom, and Slack
- Bring strong Spanish, Russian or Punjabi language skills
- Contribute lived experience that helps diversify the perspectives represented on our team. People of color, non-binary individuals, members of the LGBTQ community, people whose first language is one other than English, elders, men, high school and college students, and people with lived experience of hunger and poverty are particularly encouraged to apply.

Responsibilities (subject to change particularly as we navigate the COVID-19 pandemic)

Each AmeriCorps Culinary-focused Food Educator will serve on a small team of peers leading and supporting emerging food education programs focused on cooking meals with students. Service may include hands-on preparation of reimbursable meals with young people in a diversity of settings. While the majority of the Culinary-focused Food Educator's time will be spent at their assigned cooking programs, this position also includes time for in person or computer-based preparation, training, and the opportunity to support/co-teach with other Food Educators.

Each service member will also be responsible for:

- Recruitment and management of volunteers
- Timely completion of administrative tasks, including email communications, data & story collection, and project prep time
- Complete a minimum of 1200 hours of service (if full time, service is for 10 months, 35+ hours per week; part-time hours vary) starting August 22, 2022, including a generous mid-winter break, and ending at the end of the school year in late June 2023.

Depending on community needs and applicant's skills, interests, and scheduling availability, each AmeriCorps Food Educator may also play a lead or support role in one or more of the following:

- Supporting school-based gardening and cooking lessons
- Facilitating after school gardening and/or cooking clubs at school sites
- Facilitating School Break Camp-style food education programs (may include both gardening and cooking)
- Developing and leading trainings for teammates on topics with which the member has passion and expertise
- Assisting with social media and other special communications projects

*While our ideal is in-person service, service opportunities will be a combination of virtual remote and in-person - depending both on the season and the status of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Compensation and Benefits

- Opportunity to learn, grow and be of service in the company of passionate service members with strong mentorship and support from Common Threads' core leadership team
- Total living allowance of $14368.54 before tax (distributed in ten monthly payments) for full-time, 10 month, 1200 hour service positions. If part-time position is negotiated, living stipends will be prorated.

Common Threads is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, veteran status, or marital status in employment or the provision of services.

- Segal AmeriCorps Education Award from the National Service Trust in the amount of $4,546.50 upon successful completion of service. If part-time position is negotiated, education award will be prorated.
- Student Loan forbearance on qualifying loans during the service term
- Basic Food Benefits eligibility
- Health care coverage, including dental and vision (full-time positions only)
- Subsidized childcare for qualified members
- Professional development opportunities in education, agriculture, nutrition, communication and more

The service schedule for this position includes time off:

- Federal Holidays excluding Martin Luther King Jr Day, which is a day of service
- A week off at Thanksgiving
- An extended break in December (allowing members to rest, recreate, or pick up holiday employment as personal circumstances demand)
- A late winter/early spring break week
- Additional time off approved on a case-by-case basis

To apply:

- Fill out our application online at Common Threads Farm AmeriCorps Application. If computer access is a barrier to applying, please contact us for a paper application.
- Don't delay! Applications will be reviewed in cycles:
 - First Deadline: April 15th
 - Second Deadline: April 30th
 - If there are still openings after the second batch, applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until filled.
- For questions or to request reasonable accommodation in the application process, please email hr@commonthreadsfarm.org or call 360-927-1590.

Common Threads is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, veteran status, or marital status in employment or the provision of services.